What we do...

SSEBS MISSION STATEMENT

To further and encourage the advancement of avian knowledge through support of general and field research with the aims of gaining and distributing information about all types of exotic birds and furthering preservation of the world's parrots in their native habitats.

To support parrot welfare organizations by making financial and other donations.

To educate companion parrots caregivers about how to adequately provide for the welfare of parrots in captivity through educational outreach programs.

To provide a social forum for people with an interest in parrots.

Now that you know what South Sound Exotic Bird Society does. . . .

Here's what you can do!
